

Dear Families,

The award-winning Blue's Clues set the bar for curriculum-driven shows created for young viewers. Now, Blue and her friends are returning to television with new problem-solving adventures for today's generation of preschoolers. Mark your calendar — Blue's Clues & You! is coming to Nickelodeon, premiering Monday, November 11.

An update of the beloved classic, Blue's Clues & You! captures everything that made the original series so fun, interactive, and educational. Each episode centers on the adventures of Blue, a cheerful puppy who loves playing games, and Josh, her human friend and the show's live-action host. Together, the two invite young viewers to help them solve a puzzle, using clues that Blue has hidden in their home. Along the way, they have exciting adventures while learning about everything from pre-reading and math skills, to science, problem solving, and social skills.

We encourage you to learn along with your preschooler and extend the fun by having your own clue-ventures at home. Play along with Blue and Josh by giving your child a set of clues while in the car, grocery shopping, or around the dinner table. You might say the words or draw pictures of each item. We have included some examples of clue sets to get you started, or make up your own. Cut out the paw print and make copies to mark clues when you play at home. Choose the most comfortable chair in your house as the "Thinking Chair" and see if your children can figure out the puzzles.

WHAT DOES BLUE WANT TO DO?

1. A duck + a duck + a goose = Play Duck, Duck, Goose
2. Balloon + present + party hat = Have a party
3. Mug + chocolate + marshmallows = Have hot chocolate
4. Bathing suit + swimming pool + floaties = Go swimming
5. Dirt + seeds + watering can = Plant a garden
