

Fig Blends In

In the Tumble Leaf episode Fig Blends In, Fig learns about camouflage, a word that means being able to blend in so others can't see you.

Today, you can figure it out like Fig!

Dear Parents & Caregivers,

Make your own masks based on the pattern on the activity sheet or create a new one, and play a game of hide-and-seek together. If you want your child to learn more about animals that camouflage themselves to stay hidden and thus safe, visit kids.nationalgeographic.com/explore/wacky-weekend/hidden-animals. Encourage your child to explore objects in their "Finding Place" box or nook that could be camouflaged in your home. Learn more about the magic of a Finding Place by watching Fig the fox and his friends in Tumble Leaf.

Spark your child's curiosity about science through play inspired by the Amazon Original Series Tumble Leaf, available only on Prime Video. If you aren't a member, you can sign up at Amazon.com/primevideo.
