DEAR FAMILIES,

Deep-sea fun and friendship await you and your child in Baby Shark's Big Show! At school, children are learning about teamwork, counting skills, and moving their bodies in creative ways as they explore the underwater ocean habitat of Baby Shark and his friends with a new educational program from curriculum specialists Young Minds Inspired in partnership with Nickelodeon.

Join your child as they explore Baby Shark's underwater world by tuning into Baby Shark's Big Show!, airing weekday mornings on Nickelodeon. Talk about the episodes with your child, and then create your own jaw-some fun at home with these ideas!

- Design your own ocean habitat. On a large paper, draw swirled lines to represent water ripples and fill the water with drawings of animals and plants found in the ocean.
- Challenge the family to a memory game. Go around the dinner table and ask each family member to name an animal or plant from the ocean habitat. Each player must repeat the names provided in the order presented before adding their own animal or plant name.
- Play a card game of "Go Fish" and reinforce number recognition and counting.
- Paint colorful seashells like those you might see in Carnivore Cove.
- Host a Carnivore Cove Dance Challenge. Make up your own dance moves to the engaging songs featured in Baby Shark's Big Show! Get the whole family involved.
- Talk about friendship. Ask your child how Baby Shark, William, Hank, Goldie, Chucks, and Vola express their friendship to each other.

About Baby Shark's Big Show!

Jump into adventure and jaw-some times with Baby Shark's Big Show! on Nickelodeon. Baby Shark and his friends William, Vola, Goldie, Chucks, and Hank swim, laugh, and learn in Carnivore Cove, where the ocean of possibilities is never too big. Always ready to dive into action, sometimes Baby Shark gets into some slippery situations. But with his friends and family to help, it's always smooth swimming. Each day is full of fin-tastic fun, friends, family, and chum-believable sing-a-long songs.
