

IMAGINE YOUR OWN WORLD

In D&D, the storytelling takes place in a fantasy world filled with mystical locations and creatures. For example, there's Stormwreck Isle, a small island rumored to hide a long-lost kingdom and the site of an ancient war among dragons.

PART 1 Create an island next to Stormwreck Isle that has a very small population. This is the setting where YOUR story will take place.

On the back of the activity sheet, sketch out the island and include the features listed below:

- island name
- a cove, lake, or other body of water
- a historic landmark
- a tall geographical feature
- a place shrouded in darkness
- a place of holy significance
- a monster's lair
- a place that isn't what it seems
- a place of refuge
- a place of danger

PART 2 Divide the island features you have mapped among the members of your team and create a backstory for each one, explaining its significance on the island. Write your backstories on a separate sheet of paper.

Remember to work as a team and let your imagination soar. There's no right or wrong way to tell the story. It's your team's story. Have fun!

ABOUT STORMWRECK ISLE

Legend has it that centuries ago, there were two dragon families that feuded on nearby land. The metallic dragons—gold, silver, bronze, brass, and copper—were made by the noble Platinum Dragon named Bahamut. Cruel, five-headed Tiamat, made the chromatic dragons—red, blue, green, black, and white. There was mutual hostility between the dragons stemming from the feud between Bahamut and Tiamat.

Legend also has it that the island was formed when metallic dragons captured a fire-breathing red dragon named Sharruth and imprisoned her beneath the ocean floor. Her fury caused undersea volcanic activity that formed Stormwreck Isle. As a result, there is magic on the island that has drawn other dragons there ever since and the feuds continue.

Most believe that Sharruth died, but rumors persist that she is still raging far beneath the island.

Today, a bronze dragon named Runara is the leader of an area of Stormwreck Isle called Dragon's Rest. Ages ago, Runara killed a blue dragon to stop him from trying to harness the island's destructive magic. Runara continues to hope for peace.

Other inhabitants of the island include zombies (shipwrecked sailors), curious small reptilian creatures called kobolds, owlbears covered in brown fur and purple feathers who are hostile to visitors, mushroom-like people called myconids, and (of course) dragons.
