

On the Job, Beyond the Docks

Where can the water take you?

From captains, deckhands, hospitality crew, and engineers to designers, harbor teams, and sales, the marine industry is full of opportunities. Explore how your own skills and interests can lead to an exciting career.

Like being part of a team?

• Deckhand •

Supports the bosun in maintaining the exterior of the boat and water activities.

Great with tech?

• Marine Engineer •

Maintains the engine, electronics, and machinery on board.

Thrive on adventure?

• Ecotourism Guide •

Leads tours introducing guests to local ecologies.

Interested in hospitality?

• Steward •

Provides guest services, from room set-up to food service to entertainment.

Like to cook for people?

• Chef •

Plans and cooks meals for guests and crew.

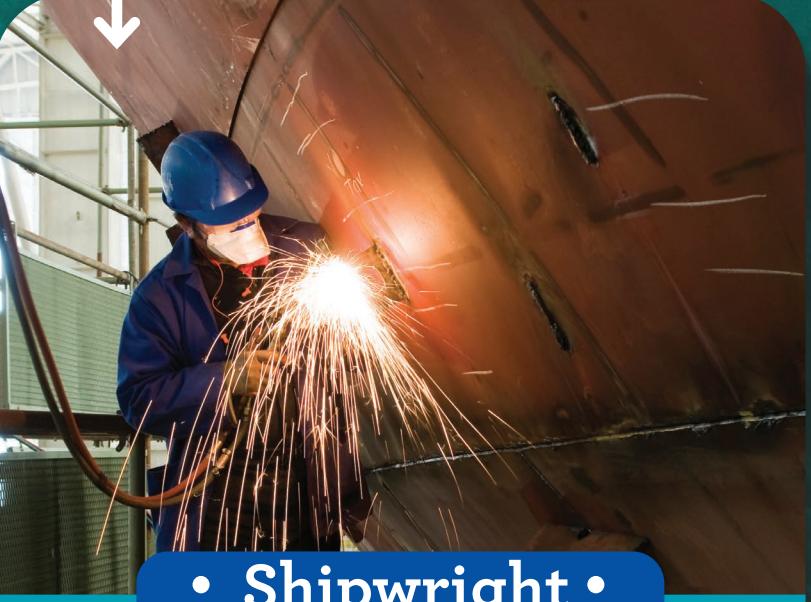

Good with numbers?

• Port Logistics Manager •

Oversees shipping, cargo handling, and dock operations.

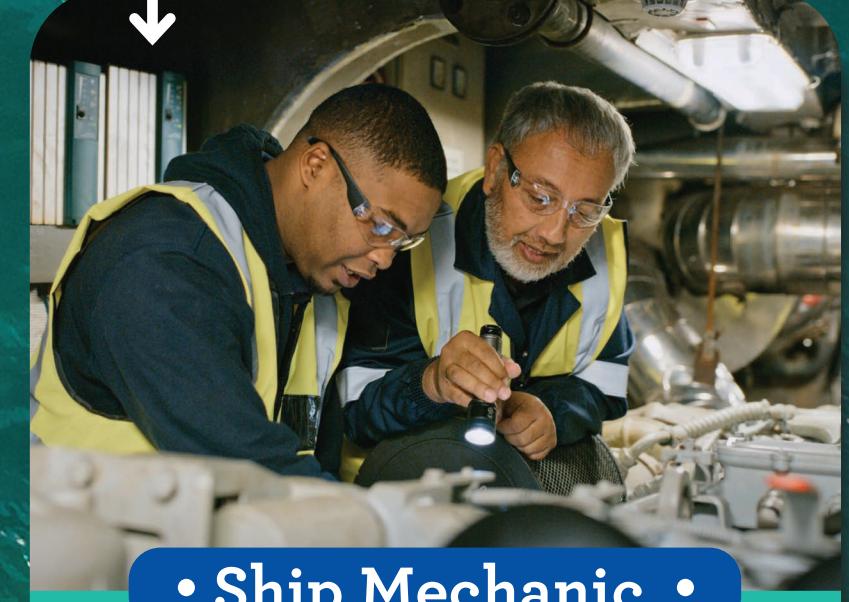

Like to build things?

• Shipwright •

Builds and repairs boats.

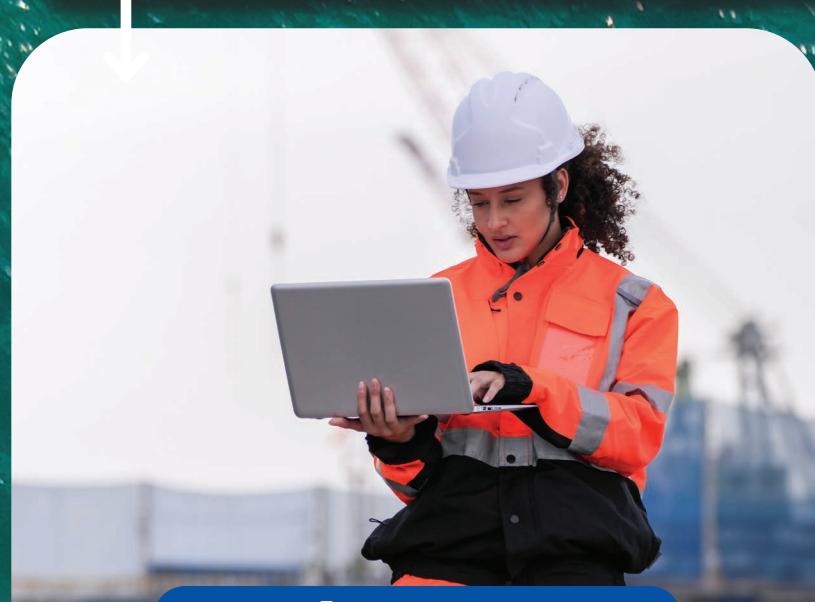

Like to fix things?

• Ship Mechanic •

Maintains, repairs, and inspects the boat's engines and mechanical systems.

Organized and detail-oriented?

• Harbormaster •

Assists vessels in the harbor and enforces harbor rules.

Strong leader?

• First Mate •

Assists the captain, monitors the ship's position, and supervises deck crew.

Learn more about marine careers with Captain Sandy and the Beyond the Docks video series at www.youtube.com/@CaptainSandysCharities and saltyjobs.org.

Captain Sandy's Charities

© 2026 YM, Inc.